Where Talent Meets Diplomacy

What is UUMUN?

UUMUN is an independent foundation affiliated with Utrecht University. Each year, we select 17 ambitious students to participate in international conferences in Oxford and Harvard. Here we have won many awards, including the prize for Outstanding Delegation.

Our delegation receives intensive training twice a week on soft skills such as speaking, lobbying, and negotiating. Essential for success in international and academic environments.

UUMUN also organizes practical events for students from across the Netherlands, such as in-house days with our partner organizations, masterclasses on sustainability and diplomacy, and recruitment dinners. This is how we connect academic talent with the world of work and with each other.

What does UUMUN offer?

In addition to preparing and participating in the Oxford and Harvard conferences, we like to share our acquired knowledge and skills. We do this through several annual events in the city of Utrecht as well as through tailored masterclasses for university and high school students.

UUMUN offers masterclasses to students, with the ambition to develop and deepen their knowledge in the fields of public speaking, negotiating, and international relations. The masterclasses are taught by a specialist group, consisting of experienced delegation members, who are specifically trained for one year by award-winning UUMUN alumni to be able to share their knowledge with students. In addition, giving them the unique opportunity to get to know a collegiate level MUN organization consisting of top students.

A tailored experience

Along the lines of two modules, we offer professionally delivered, customized training in public speaking, negotiating, and MUN. Of course we are able to adjust these trainings according to your wishes.

Our experienced trainers are happy to discuss with you how to tailor our modules to your students and learning objectives.

Module 1: Model United Nations (5 hours)

Our most comprehensive training which combines the content of the Negotiating and Public Speaking Module with an introduction to the workings of Model United Nations. Students will learn both the theory and techniques of effective public speaking and negotiating before gaining insight into the fundamentals of a United Nations conference - how debates are organized, writing resolutions, and representing a country.

This training concludes with an engaging mini-MUN conference, where students put their newly acquired skills into practice by debating real-world global issues in a realistic conference setting. After completing the MUN, participants are granted an official UUMUN certificate as well as certificates of honor to outstanding participants.

Module 2: Negotiating and Public speaking (3,5 hours)

This module begins with teaching students the theory of good public speaking and gives them the opportunity to practice with exercises used by our own UUMUN delegates. In the second half, the ins-and-outs of negotiation will be highlighted, showing participants how to be persuasive, convincing and effective in their demands, while keeping their personal style and strengths. The class includes contemporary techniques used by global leaders and lets your students learn skills while having fun and being engaged.

Price indication

Depending on the location and the amount of students the prices for both modules generally vary between:

25-35 euro per participant for MUN module

20-30 euro per participant for Negotiating and Public speaking module
